Professional Profile

Fred, who joined Perkins & Company in 1990, has spent over 35 years in the accounting industry. During that time he has developed substantial experience in family business planning, estate planning, reorganizations, tax structure planning and general business consulting for various businesses and an impressive roster of long-time clients. Fred's clients are primarily construction, home building and real estate development businesses, but he also serves clients in the agriculture, manufacturing, fabrication, real estate taxation and professional services industries.

Fred has been a committed member of several construction industry trade groups including Associated General Contractors (AGC), Home Builders Association (HBA) and Building Owners and Managers Association (BOMA). Fred serves as the treasurer for the PAC committee and AGC, is a member of the AGC Professional Associates Council and is also a member of the National AGC Tax and Financial Affairs Committee.
